Compensation in place of action

21(1) No action lies for the recovery of compensation under this Act and all claims for compensation shall be determined by the Board.

(2) This Act and the regulations apply instead of all rights and causes of action, statutory or otherwise, to which a worker, the worker's legal personal representatives or the worker's dependants are or might become entitled against the employer of the worker by reason of any accident happening to the worker, and no action in respect of that accident lies against the employer.

(3) Any party to an action may, on notice to the other parties, apply to the Board for determination of whether a worker who is a party to the action is entitled to compensation under this Act and the regulations.

1981 cW-16 s16

Action vests in the Board

22(1) In this section and section 22.1,

- (a) "action" means a cause of action and all rights of recovery of a claimant, whether inside or outside Alberta, against any person or persons, in respect of or arising out of the personal injury to or the death of a worker;
- (b) "claimant" means a worker, a worker's legal personal representative or a worker's dependants;

- (c) “compensation costs” means the present and future costs, as determined by the Board, of all benefits paid or payable to or on behalf of a claimant under this Act including, without limitation, all disability, medical aid and vocational rehabilitation benefits.

(2) This section

- (a) applies to accidents that occur on or after the date this section comes into force;
- (b) does not apply in respect of an action that the Board has divested itself of under section 22.1.

(3) Notwithstanding any other Act, if an accident happens to a worker entitling a claimant to compensation under this Act, any action of the claimant in respect of that accident vests in the Board.

(4) Nothing in subsection (3) shall be construed so as to affect the operation of section 13(b) of the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Act.

(5) Where an action vests in the Board under subsection (3),

- (a) the Board
- (i) may bring the action in the name of the claimant for the entire value of the action including, without limitation, all compensation costs,
- (ii) has the same right to recover any amounts in the action that the claimant would have been entitled to recover, including the compensation costs as if the claimant had been required to pay the compensation costs,
- (iii) has the same right to pursue all of the same claims for losses and damages in the action as the claimant would have had but for the vesting of the action in the Board, whether or not those claims or damages have been accepted by the Board, in whole or in part, in the adjudication of the compensation claim,
- (iv) has control of the action including, without limitation,
- (A) determining whether or not to bring the action,
- (B) compromising and effecting a settlement of the action at any time for any amount it considers advisable,

and

(D) retaining and instructing counsel of its choice,

and

(v) may enter evidence by way of a certificate issued under section 149,

and

(b) the court, in hearing the action, may consider any evidence that the Board gathered in its adjudication of the claimant's compensation claim.

(6) No decision made or required to be made by the Board under this section shall be construed as placing the Board in a conflict of interest in respect of a decision made or required to be made by the Board under any other section of this Act, nor shall the pursuit of an action under this section by the Board be construed as placing the Board in a fiduciary relationship with the claimant.

(7) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, no legal fees are payable by the Board to counsel retained by a claimant in respect of an action to which the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Act applies.

(8) No settlement may be made and no payment shall be made to any person other than the Board or its designate for or in respect of any action except with the approval of the Board, and any release, payment or settlement made in contravention of this subsection is void.

(9) The claimant shall not adversely affect the conduct of an action and shall co-operate fully with the Board in bringing an action or any appeal of an action including, without limitation, by

(a) securing and providing any or all information or evidence,

(b) attending at any or all meetings, mediations, arbitrations, questionings under Part 5 of the Alberta Rules of Court, medical examinations, including independent medical examinations, and the trial of the action, and

(c) providing and executing any or all documents required by the Board to bring the action, including endorsing an assignment or release of the action and providing consents to secure information, in the form and manner prescribed by the Board, in favour of the Board, as and when required by the Board.

(10) If a claimant does not comply with subsection (9), the Board may suspend the payment of periodic compensation to the claimant during the period of non-compliance.

- (b) payment of disbursements approved or incurred by the Board;
- (c) if the claimant has complied with subsection (9), payment of 25% of the remaining amount to the claimant;
- (d) where the Board retained counsel to bring the action, payment of legal fees from the proceeds of the action in an amount prescribed by the regulations unless the Board determines that that amount is insufficient, in which case the Board may increase the amount;
- (e) where the action was pursued by counsel employed by the Board, payment of an administration fee as determined by the Board;
- (f) payment of any compensation costs;
- (g) payment of the balance, if any, to the claimant.

(12) The Board shall set off any amount due to the Board by a claimant against any payment under subsection (11)(c) or (g) or both.

(13) Where future compensation costs are incurred by the Board in addition to the compensation costs recovered under subsection (11)(f) and a payment is made to the claimant under subsection (11)(g), the amount of the payment is deemed to be an advance of any future benefits determined to be payable under Part 4, including benefits relating to periods of time prior to the date of settlement or judgment, and shall be set off against any of those future benefits.

(14) No employer shall, directly or indirectly, by agreement, threats, promises or persuasion or by any other means, discourage or impede a worker of the employer, or the worker's dependant, from participating in or co-operating with the Board in pursuing an action under this section.

Divested action

22.1(1) If the Board determines that it is not in the best interests of the Accident Fund or the workers' compensation system to bring an action under section 22, the Board may divest itself of the action and assign it in writing to the claimant, in which event the claimant may bring the action.

(2) After an action is divested under subsection (1), the Board is not liable for the payment of any legal or other costs or damages, or entitled to recover any amount, in connection with the claimant's pursuit of the action.

Circumstances removing cause of action

23(1) If an accident happens to a worker entitling the worker or the worker's dependants to compensation under this Act, neither the worker, the worker's legal personal representatives, the worker's dependants nor the worker's employer has any cause of action in respect of or arising out of the personal injury suffered by or the death of the worker as a result of the accident

- (a) against any employer, or
- (b) against any worker of an employer, in an industry to which this Act applies when the conduct of that employer or worker that caused or contributed to the injury arose out of and in the course of employment in an industry to which this Act applies.

(2) In an action to which section 22 applies, a defendant may not bring third party or other proceedings against any employer or worker whom the plaintiff may not, by reason of this section bring an action against, but if the court is of the opinion that that employer or worker, by that employer's or worker's fault or negligence, contributed to the damage or loss of the plaintiff, it shall hold the defendant liable only for that portion of the damage or loss occasioned by the defendant's own fault or negligence.

(5) The Board may, on application either before or after the expiration of the 30-day period referred to in subsection (4), extend that period.

(6) If a worker or dependant elects under subsection (3) to claim compensation under this Act and at any time claims compensation or some other remedy under the law of another jurisdiction in respect of the same accident, the worker or dependant is deemed to have forfeited all rights to compensation under this Act in respect of that accident, and any money paid to the worker or dependant or on the worker's or dependant's behalf by the Board in respect of it constitutes a debt due from the worker or dependant to the Board.

(8) Notwithstanding subsection (6), if a worker or dependant, before claiming compensation under this Act, and in ignorance of the worker's or dependant's rights or the extent of the worker's or dependant's rights under this Act, claims compensation under the law of the other jurisdiction where the accident happened and is found to be not entitled to compensation, the worker or dependant is deemed not to have forfeited the worker's or dependant's rights under this Act by reason only of making that claim.

Compensation for disability

- (a) on a monthly basis in the case of permanent disability,
- (b) on a bi-weekly basis in the case of temporary disability, or
- (c) on a basis other than under clause (a) or (b), if the Board considers it appropriate to do so.

(2) If an accident causes injury to a worker and results in disablement, the Board shall pay periodic compensation to the worker based on the worker's net earnings, and for that purpose the Board shall calculate the worker's net earnings in accordance with the regulations and based on a period or periods of time prior to the accident that, in the Board's opinion, fairly and justly represent the worker's net earnings at the time of the accident.

(2.1) If the period or periods of time prior to the accident referred to in subsection (2) are, in the Board's opinion, insufficient to allow the Board to calculate the worker's net earnings, the Board may pay periodic compensation based on another amount as determined by the Board, subject to the maximum payable under subsection (4).

(3) In making a calculation under subsection (2), the Board shall consider separately each source of employment the worker had at the time of the accident from which the worker no longer has the ability to earn wages or in which the worker's ability to earn wages is impaired, due to the accident, regardless of whether the source of employment is in an industry to which this Act applies.

(4) In computing net earnings for the purposes of this Act, no regard may be taken of the aggregate gross annual earnings of the worker in excess of an amount prescribed by order of the Board.

(5) An order referred to in subsection (4) applies only in respect of an accident that occurs on or after the day specified in the order.

(6) The amount of the periodic payment of compensation is

- (a) in the case of permanent total disability and temporary total disability, 90% of the worker's net earnings, and
- (b) in the case of permanent partial disability and temporary partial disability, a proportionate part of 90% of the worker's net earnings based on the Board's estimate of the impairment of earning capacity from the nature and degree of disability.

(7) Compensation for permanent total disability and permanent partial disability is payable to the worker during the worker's lifetime and shall not be less than

- (a) in the case of permanent total disability, $900 per month, and
- (b) in the case of permanent partial disability, a proportionate part of $900 per month based on the Board's estimate of the impairment of earning capacity from the nature and degree of disability.

(8) Compensation for temporary total disability and temporary partial disability is payable to the worker only as long as the disability lasts, and compensation for temporary total disability shall be

- (a) where the worker's bi-weekly net earnings are greater than the sum referred to in subsection (7)(a), the greater of
 - (i) the sum referred to in subsection (7)(a), and
 - (ii) the bi-weekly equivalent of the amount that the worker would have received under subsection (6) had the worker been permanently totally disabled,

and

- (b) where the worker's bi-weekly net earnings are equal to or less than the sum referred to in subsection (7)(a), 100% of those bi-weekly net earnings.

(9) Where work is made available to a worker who is temporarily partially disabled and the Board is satisfied that the worker is medically and physically capable of doing the work and that, considering all the circumstances, it is fair and just to expect the worker to accept the work, the following applies, notwithstanding subsection (8):

- (a) if the worker accepts the work, the Board shall pay periodic compensation to the worker if, in doing the work, the worker suffers an earnings loss that is caused by the residual disability, and in that case the compensation shall be in an amount that is a proportionate part of 90% of the worker's earnings loss, based on the Board's estimate of the degree to which the earnings loss is caused by the residual disability;

- (b) if the worker refuses the work, the Board shall continue to pay periodic compensation to the worker in accordance with clause (a) as if the worker had accepted the work.

(10) Subsection (9) applies regardless of whether the work is in an industry to which this Act applies.

- (b) there is a recurrence of disability in the form of temporary disability and that disability is due to the same accident,
- (c) the worker has, at the time of recurrence of the disability, earnings in an amount that is greater than the amount of the worker's net earnings at the time of the accident, and

(2) Subsection (1) applies regardless of whether the accident that gave rise to the right to compensation occurred before or after the coming into force of this Act.

(3) A supplement under subsection (1) is payable until the enhanced disability ceases or the worker reaches the age of 65 years, whichever occurs first.

(4) A worker who is receiving a supplement under subsection (1) on December 31, 1989 shall receive, on and after January 1, 1990, an increase to the supplement based on an increase of 10% to the net earnings of the worker used to calculate the supplement, subject to the maximum pension payable under section 56.

66(1) In the case of an accident causing permanent partial disability, if the Board is satisfied that the worker's net earnings after the accident together with any compensation the worker is receiving with respect to that accident are less than the worker's net earnings calculated under section 56 the Board may, in addition to the compensation payable under that section, pay compensation in an amount up to 90% of the earnings loss, according to what percentage of the earnings loss is, in the Board's opinion, caused by the residual disability.

(2) Subsection (1) applies regardless of whether the accident that gave rise to the right to compensation occurred before or after the coming into force of this Act, but in the case of an accident that occurred before January 1, 1982 section 56(4) does not apply and the calculation of net earnings shall be based on the maximum allowable earnings in effect at the time of the accident.

(3) A worker who is receiving additional compensation under subsection (1) for earnings loss on December 31, 1989 shall receive, on and after January 1, 1990, an increase to the additional compensation based on an increase of 10% to the net earnings of the worker used to calculate the additional compensation, subject to the maximum pension payable under section 56.

Death

Compensation for death

70(0.1) For the purposes of this Act, if at the time of the worker's death there is both a spouse and an adult interdependent partner of the worker, then

- (a) if the spouse is a dependent spouse, the spouse is entitled to a pension under this section, or
- (b) if the spouse is not a dependent spouse and the adult interdependent partner is a dependant, the adult interdependent partner is entitled to a pension under this section, and nothing in this subsection affects the rights under this Act of dependent children of either relationship.

(1) If a worker dies as a result of an accident and leaves a dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner, a pension is payable to the dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner in an amount equal to the pension the worker would have received had the worker lived and been permanently totally disabled.

(2) Subject to this section, the pension referred to in subsection (1) shall, where there is a dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner and dependent children, be paid to the spouse for the spouse's benefit and the benefit of the dependent children until the month in which the youngest dependent child reaches the age of 18 years, at which time a 5-year term pension is payable to the dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner in the amounts specified in subsection (3).

(NOTE: A technical error is contained in the amendments made by section 81(4)(c)(ii) and (iii), SA 2002 cA-4.5, therefore the amendments they purport to make to section 70(2) have not been incorporated in this consolidation.)

(3) If the dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner is gainfully employed when the youngest dependent child reaches the age of 18 years, the pension under subsection (1) terminates in the month in which the child reaches that age and a 5-year term pension is payable commencing in the month following that month in an amount equal to

- (a) for the first 12-month period, the full pension,
- (b) for the 2nd 12-month period, 80% of the full pension,
- (c) for the 3rd 12-month period, 60% of the full pension,
- (d) for the 4th 12-month period, 40% of the full pension, and
- (e) for the 5th 12-month period, 20% of the full pension that the worker would have received had the worker lived and been permanently totally disabled.

(4) If the dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner is not gainfully employed when the youngest dependent child reaches the age of 18 years, the Board may, notwithstanding subsection (2), continue payment of the full pension under subsection (1) after the child reaches that age until

- (a) the spouse or adult interdependent partner becomes gainfully employed, or
- (b) the expiration of a period of 60 months after the month in which the child reaches the age of 18 years, whichever occurs first, at which time a 5-year term pension is payable to the spouse or adult interdependent partner in the amounts specified in subsection (3) on and from the month following the month in which the spouse or adult interdependent partner becomes gainfully employed or the 60-month period terminates.

(5) If, during the period of time referred to in subsection (4)(b), the dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner neglects or refuses to accept vocational rehabilitation services provided under subsection (11), the spouse or adult interdependent partner is entitled to receive only a 5-year term pension commencing in the month following the month in which the neglect or refusal occurred and in the amounts set out in subsection (3).

(6) If a worker dies as a result of an accident, leaving a dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner and no dependent children, and if the spouse or adult interdependent partner accepts vocational rehabilitation services provided under subsection (11), the spouse or adult interdependent partner is entitled to a pension in the amount referred to in subsection (1) until

- (a) the spouse or adult interdependent partner becomes gainfully employed, or
- (b) the expiration of a period of 60 months after the date of death of the worker, whichever occurs first, at which time a 5-year term pension is payable in the amounts set out in subsection (3) commencing in the month following the month in which the spouse or adult interdependent partner becomes employed or the 60-month period expires.

(7) In a case to which subsection (6) applies, if the spouse or adult interdependent partner is gainfully employed at the time of the worker's death or neglects or refuses to accept vocational rehabilitation services provided under subsection (11), the spouse or adult interdependent partner is entitled to receive only a 5-year term pension payable commencing in the month following the month in which the worker died and in the amounts set out in subsection (3).

(8) If a worker dies as a result of an accident and leaves a dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner and no dependent children, and if the spouse or adult interdependent partner is employed at the time of the death or afterwards becomes employed, but that employment does not constitute gainful employment, the Board may deduct from the pension payable under this Act an amount not to exceed the amount earned by the dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner from that employment.

(9) If a worker dies as a result of an accident and

- (a) leaves dependent children but no dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner, or
- (b) leaves a dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner and dependent children, but the spouse or adult interdependent partner later dies, the pension payable under this section shall be paid to the person who acts as guardian of the dependent children for the maintenance and education of the dependent children until the month in which the youngest child reaches 18 years of age, at which time a 5-year term pension is payable in the amounts set out in subsection (3), to be divided equally among the surviving children who were under the age of 18 years at the time of the worker's death.

(10) If more than one person is acting as a guardian under subsection (9), the Board may divide the amount payable under that subsection proportionately among those persons according to the number of children of whom they are the guardian.

(11) The Board may take whatever steps it considers necessary to provide the benefits and services referred to in section 89(1) to a dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner.

(12) Notwithstanding anything in this Act, if the Board considers that a dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner is an invalid or is incapable of substantially benefitting from rehabilitation services or of becoming gainfully employed, it may continue payment of the full pension payable under subsection (1), or a percentage of it that the Board considers appropriate, for as long as the dependent spouse or dependent adult interdependent partner remains an invalid or the incapability persists.

- (a) that the cost of the claim be included and charged in the experience accounts and classes of the employers who, or whose workers, were negligent, in proportion to the degree of negligence of each person involved, or 135(1) Subject to subsection (2), the Civil Enforcement Act does not apply to anything done under this section.

(2) If any person fails to pay to the Board any money that the person is liable to pay under this Act within the time provided for that payment, the Board may by itself or by its agent or a civil enforcement agency collect the amount owing with costs by distress of

- (a) the goods of that person, or
- (b) any property, other than real property, or any proceeds of property that is subject to the charge under section 129.

(3) No distress shall be made and no levy shall be made under any distress under this section unless the Board executes and delivers a proper warrant in that behalf to a person authorized by subsection (2) to make and levy a distress.

(4) No person to whom a distress warrant is delivered for execution is bound to proceed unless the person has been furnished with security in an amount the person considers reasonably sufficient to indemnify the person in respect of the person's fees, charges and expenses, and any claims for damages in respect of the distress and levy, and anything done in relation to it.

(5) A person executing a distress warrant under this section shall

- (a) serve on the debtor, and if there is more than one debtor, on each of them, or on an adult member of the debtor's household,
- (b) attach to the goods to be seized or some or all of them, or
- (c) post in some conspicuous place on the premises on which the goods or some part of them are at the time of seizure, a notice of seizure setting out the name of the creditor and debtor, a description of the goods seized and the nature of the indebtedness.

(6) For the purpose of effecting the seizure of goods authorized by a distress warrant under this section, or of obtaining the possession of goods that have been previously seized, the person executing the distress warrant

- (a) has the right to enter on any land or premises on which any goods subject to distress under the warrant are situated, and to seize, sell or remove the goods that the person executing the distress warrant requires, and
- (b) may, if it is not possible otherwise to effect the seizure or obtain possession of the goods previously seized, as the case may be, either by himself or herself or with the assistance of any persons the person executing the distress warrant requests, break open the door or doors of any building, other than a private dwelling house, in which any goods liable to seizure are contained, and on the order of a judge of the Court of Queen's Bench may similarly break open the door or doors of a private dwelling house.

(6.1) At any time after making a seizure, the person executing the distress warrant may appoint the debtor or some other person in possession of the property seized as bailee if the debtor or other person executes a written undertaking in the prescribed form

- (a) to hold the property as bailee for the person executing the distress warrant, and
- (b) to deliver up possession of the property to the person executing the distress warrant on demand.

(6.2) Property held by a bailee under subsection (6.1) is deemed to be held under seizure by the person executing the distress warrant.

(7) A seizure made pursuant to this section is a continuing seizure until the secretary by notice in writing releases the seizure or until the goods under seizure have been sold.

(8) The person executing the distress warrant may, in accordance with the regulations, sell by public auction the goods seized or so much of them as is necessary to pay the money due with all lawful costs.

(9) If goods seized under this section are offered for sale and remain unsold, the person executing the distress warrant may sell the goods by private contract, either to the Board or any other person, if the price offered for the goods is, in the opinion of the person executing the distress warrant, a fair and reasonable price having regard to all the circumstances.

(10) A sale of goods seized under this section is without warranty of title and the purchaser acquires no more than the precise interest in the goods that can be sold under the power of distress.

(11) If the goods seized are sold for more than the amount due and costs, and if no claim to the surplus is made within 6 months from the date of the sale by any other person on the ground that the goods sold belonged to that other person or that that other person was entitled by lien or other right to the surplus, it shall be paid to the person in whose possession the goods were when the distress was made.

(12) If a claim to the surplus under subsection (11) is contested, the surplus money shall be paid by the person executing the distress warrant to the clerk of the Court of Queen's Bench at the judicial centre closest to the place where the seized goods were situated, who shall retain the surplus until the respective rights of the parties have been determined by action at law or otherwise.

(13) When, at the time a distress warrant under this section is placed in the hands of a civil enforcement agency, goods of the person against whom the warrant is issued are already under seizure or distraint by the same civil enforcement agency, or are subsequently seized or distrained by the civil enforcement agency, under a distress warrant or writ of enforcement other than the Board's, the goods are, from the time of the placing of the Board's warrant in the hands of the civil enforcement agency, or from the time the seizure or distraint is made, as the case may be, deemed to have also been seized or distrained on by the civil enforcement agency, under the Board's warrant.
