(2) If an authorized producer markets chicken in contravention of subsection (1), the Board must in a subsequent production cycle, without permanently reducing the authorized quota allocated to that producer, reduce the weight of chicken that the producer may market by an amount equal to the weight of the chicken that was marketed in excess of that producer’s marketing quota.

(3) An authorized producer who has marketed chicken contrary to subsection (1) must pay to the Board a levy of

- (a) $0.44 per kilogram for each kilogram of chicken marketed in excess of the lower limit of the over-production sleeve but less than the upper limit of the over-production sleeve established by the Board pursuant to section 23.01, and
- (b) $0.88 per kilogram for each kilogram of chicken marketed in excess of the upper limit of the over-production sleeve established by the Board pursuant to section 23.01.

Late or early marketings

26 If a processor changes the date on which an authorized producer markets chicken from that set out in the information provided to the Board under section 9(6) and (7) in order to meet a market demand, and as a result of the change in the date the producer markets more or less chicken than allowed under that producer's marketing quota, the Board may

- (a) waive any levies that resulted from the delay in marketings, or
