- (a) “ADL” means activities of daily living that are activities usually performed in the course of a normal day and are used to measure a person’s ability to function independently and includes eating, bathing, grooming, dressing, toileting and transferring;
- (b) “episode” means an event that is distinctive and separate and can be part of a larger series;
- (c) “face” means the area in front of the ears and from the line of the jaw to and including the forehead;
- (d) “IADL” means instrumental activities of daily living that are a series of life functions used for maintaining a person's immediate environment and are used to measure a person's ability to live independently and includes obtaining food, cooking, laundering, housecleaning, phone use, travelling in community, managing one's medications and managing one's finances;

- (e) "muscle grade" refers to the American Spinal Injury Association (ASIA) 5-point Motor Index scale of grading muscle strength or weakness with the strength of 5 considered normal and 0 considered paralysis;
- (f) "site" means the head, neck, chest and abdomen, back or any limb;
- (g) "surgery" means surgical procedures generally performed in an operating room, but does not include procedures commonly performed in an Emergency Department or a physician's office.

General principles

2 The following principles are to be applied with respect to making a determination under this Schedule:

- (a) all injuries must be a direct result of the eligible offence committed against the victim and verified by a medical professional with the qualifications appropriate to the injury;
- (b) removable prosthetic devices and aids such as eye glasses, dentures and prosthetic limbs are considered property and are not eligible for financial benefits;
- (c) residual effects of injuries, or impairment, are to be assessed at the point of maximum medical improvement (MMI), as determined by a medical professional with the qualifications appropriate to the injury;
- (d) complications or impairments arising from the initial injury or treatment are considered part of the injury award;
- (e) lacerations and burns include any resulting scarring or disfigurement and any reduced mobility due to scarring;
- (f) injuries with severity scores under 2.500 may be combined to a maximum severity score of 7.000 and awarded as a single injury of "multiple minor injuries";

- (g) only one injury per injury subgroup, or group, where no subgroup exists, can be awarded, unless the injuries are for different limbs or the injury is in the category of medical conditions;
- (h) for any injury resulting in amputation, the amputation injury shall be awarded and not the underlying injury to structures or tissues, and where an injury previously awarded results in amputation, the award for amputation shall replace the previously awarded injury to underlying structures or tissues;
- (i) where the specific injury is not listed in the subgroup, or group where no subgroup exists, the most appropriate injury in that subgroup or group shall be selected.
